

AIRPORT TRANSPORTATION

Please carry a copy of the electronic airline ticket while you travel. It helps to have a paper copy of the electronic ticket in case a flight is cancelled and you must reschedule mid-trip. If you will check luggage through the airline, confirm it is tagged to your destination airport. The luggage tag code for the Indianapolis, Indiana airport is IND.

Use airport clocks, not your wristwatch, to find the correct local time to board connecting flights. Indianapolis and Bloomington are currently on Eastern Daylight Saving Time, same as New York City. Chicago is one hour earlier on Central Daylight Saving Time.

Airline partnerships could result in the departure boards showing a different airline name than listed on your ticket. So when looking at airport departure boards to find your departure gate number, look for your destination city and departure time, and then the flight number to find your connecting flight. Airline partnerships include Lufthansa/United/Air Canada/Turkish Airlines, British Airways/American/Finnair/LAN, Delta/Virgin/KLM/AirFrance/Alitalia/Aeroflot, etc.

Airports maps can be printed from the internet. To see a map of the Indianapolis airport terminal, go to www.indianapolisairport.com.

To take the limousine or shuttle from the Indianapolis Airport to Bloomington, exit the Passenger Terminal from Baggage Claim and cross the street to the Ground Transportation Center. Here is a short video with tips on getting through the airport and finding the Ground Transportation Center <https://ois.indiana.edu/after-admission/arrival/index.html>.

If you have a limo reservation, check in using the telephone at the kiosk for Carte Blanch/Classic Touch Limousine Service at the Ground Transportation Center. The driver will come inside for you. There could be a delay in departure if other limo passengers arrive on flights slightly later than yours. If the limo doesn't arrive within 30 minutes, call 1-812-339-7269, or 1-800-319-0082, or use their courtesy phone in the Ground Transportation Center to speak to the dispatcher.

If you'll use the shuttle, walk through the Ground Transportation Center and out to the street on the other side. Look for the sign with your shuttle name and your city. There are separate waiting areas outside (between the Ground Transportation Center and the Parking Garage) for the Go Express shuttle for Bloomington/Indiana University and the Go Express shuttle for West Lafayette/Purdue University.
